The Website – Front Page

- By February 29th the Graphic team will release Two Graphic proposal for the website Home Page
- In a week the expert team must choose the right one eventually indicating some implementations
- After the choice the graphic idea will be customized on the website infrastructure
- Since that date no more graphic implementation will be accepted (at least for the home page)

The Website − Navigation

- We are expeting to receive NOT a single document, but a precise matrix of documents to insert as "articles"

- As the upload will be done for every single language, every document must have a corrispondance in every language translation
